

@TeacherToolkit™

Coaching for Teachers ...

Practical tools ...

If coaching is the answer, what was the original question? The culture in a school or college is crucial for developing and maintaining high standards. Frequent coaching conversations with staff and students are vital in ensuring that long-term, sustainable improvements can be achieved...

Developing culture; implementation ...

At the root of all the practice and the action research I have conducted in education over the last 30 years, teachers need deep and meaningful conversations with colleagues to improve their thinking and performance. This training provides practical steps teachers and leaders can take to kickstart and embed a coaching culture. The content focuses on practical application, observations, feedback, and implementation. The greatest organisational headache is for schools and colleges to know how to implement coaching logistics to support successful strategies or programmes, and sustain them ...

Delivery:

1. Audience: Teachers or school leaders
2. Ideal Delivery: 1 day (5hrs)
3. Includes priming CPD, retrieval CPD, book + resources

Book Now

Email: Sales@TeacherToolkit.co.uk

"In the current climate of uncertainty and change, through thought-provoking conversations, Ross provides the calm within the storm. He creates a safe platform upon which to question, challenge and create opportunities to enhance teaching and learning."

Theresa Moses, headteacher, Paxton Primary Academy, London

